METER READING CHARGE

The Marshall County REMC utilizes part-time employees to read electric meters monthly. These meter readers operate on a scheduled route. There are times when the meter reader is unable to read the electric meter because of: locked gates, dogs loose or tied too close to the meter, or other similar reasons. If the regular meter reader is unable to read the electric meter for three consecutive months, a service charge will be added to the electric bill as a separate line item of $5.00 per month to recover part of the extra meter reading cost. The REMC may utilize either an automatic meter-reading device, install a special meter loop near the transformer, or send a lineman to obtain the reading at its option.

USE OF CREDIT OR DEBIT CARD CHARGE

The Marshall County REMC proposes to offer customers the convenience of paying electric bills with a credit or debit card. The cost charged by the credit or debit card company will be passed on to the customer.
